Extols Wilson at Memorial Meeting

Hon. William H. Berry is Speaker at Elm Hall

"The most stupendous thought that ever took possession of my mind next to that of my personal responsibility to God is that of the power of one or two men to make or break our country."

This was a statement made by Hon. William H. Berry, the leading speaker at the memorial service in honor of Woodrow Wilson held in the firemen's hall last Sunday afternoon. It was made by the speaker in paying tribute to Mr. Wilson's service to the country in getting through Congress the Federal Reserve Bank Bill, which, Mr. Berry said, enabled America to turn the scales against Germany and win the war. He said the Reserve Bank plan, as administered by Mr. Wilson's administration, took power from a few men in high finance and disseminated it. It was built on the basic principle of enabling any man to borrow money at any time on any real asset to offer as collateral.

The meeting was largely attended by admirers of Mr. Wilson of both Political parties. It was held under the auspices of the Narberth Democratic Club, and was presided over by Mr. Arthur W. Burns, its president, who introduced the speakers. Rev. John Van Ness opened the meeting with prayer.

Mr. Berry spoke of his having campaigned with Mr. Wilson in several of the Northwestern counties of Pennsylvania, and of his having spent an hour and a half with him in the White House to talk over the banking situation. While Mr. Wilson said that he spoke only from an academic standpoint Mr. Berry realized that he was face to face with a man who was the master of the subject under discussion.

Mr. Berry paid high tribute likewise to Mr. Wilson's work for the League of Nations. The then President's notes to the czar and the Kaiser in the earlier part of the war were really de facto to the American people, and meant the harmonization of the people in a solidarity never realized before. "There never was a diplomat till Woodrow Wilson appeared," he cried. He said with feeling and amid applause that he pledged all he had and was to carry out the work that Mr. Wilson had begun and for which he gave his life.

"Wilson has triumphed—it is we that have failed," said Mr. O'Connell, of Philadelphia, in adding his word of praise. "He was great because he sacrificed himself for others." His whole lifework seemed to have been a preparation for the high office which he reached by the will of the people.

Another speaker was Mrs. Ella Duane Davis, of Philadelphia, whose husband, Dr. Davis, was an intimate friend of Mr. Wilson, their friendship dating from their college days at Princeton. Both were members of the class of 1879. It was her husband, she said, who first suggested Dr. Grayson as the ideal man to become Mr. Wilson's physician. Her husband had often been called in consultation as Mr. Wilson's health succumbed to the drain of his arduous labors.

Verses in praise of the ex-President, written by a Narberth man who wished his identity concealed, were read by Mr. Haws. These verses are printed in another part of this issue. America was sung at the beginning of the meeting, Miss Marion Haws at the piano.

COASTING

The light snow this week, which quickly packed into a smooth covering, made fine sledding.

Essex Avenue, Woodside, and other hills in Narberth and nearby were crowded. Street Commissioner Suplee, as is his custom, closed off the Essex Avenue hill to other traffic, and cops were on duty keeping motorists from running over the hundreds of coasters.

Many sleds were able to go flying under the Windsor Avenue barricade, and either proceed to the railroad bank or turn right, making a longer run towards Wynnewood Avenue.

SPOKE AT NORRISTOWN

State Senator Fletcher W. Stites, of Narberth, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Norristown Rotary Club, Thursday afternoon, at the Norristown Club. His subject was "100th Anniversary of the Birth of Winfield S. Hancock."

Dull Care Will be Banished

St. Margaret's Juniors Plan Gala Evening

According to the reports which are coming to "Our Town," that evening of dancing which is being arranged by St. Margaret's Juniors for Washington's Birthday, February 22, 1924, will be a highly distinctive occasion. The committee is apparently reluctant to reveal all the details, and our reporter has not as yet been able to ascertain the nature of the numerous surprise features with which it is said the evening will abound.

When he was interviewed last Sunday afternoon, David Laanan, one of the active members of the committee, declared that in his opinion it was sufficient to say that nothing quite like the Junior Dance was ever held in Narberth before. He pointed out that it was hardly advisable to proclaim all the facts of the case, because after all the capacity of St. Margaret's Hall was limited, and he felt confident that if everyone knew exactly what was in store, the result would be an outpouring of the populace which would be exceedingly difficult to handle. "You may say," he stated to the reporter, "that there is considerable merit to the rumors which are going around regarding the extraordinary nature of the affair, but beyond that I do not desire to be quoted."

In further quest of the elusive mystery of it all, our scribe hied to Wynnewood Manor, where he was fortunate in coming across the Rudolphs gaily attired in their new Tuxedo suits. It was soon apparent, however, that nothing was to be learned here, as neither Gordon nor Buddy could be persuaded to let the general public in on the inside story of the affair. "There will be no advance information, none whatever," declared Gordon, "as this affair will be altogether different from anything of the kind which has ever happened before. People must be tired of being told to expect a lot and then when they go find everything falls short of the representations. We are trying the novel experiment of promising nothing and giving everything, and that's all I got to say."

Interviews with the other members of the committee proved equally futile, but the fact that application will be made to Council to have North Narberth Avenue regarded as a one-way street on the night of the affair would seem to indicate that the attendance is bound to be overwhelming and that those who desire to go should make sure to get their tickets promptly. They cost a dollar each, but each ticket admits two, and that makes it very reasonable and junior-like, indeed. It was learned in Philadelphia that Jack Smith's orchestra has been engaged for the occasion and a master stroke of that kind promises exceedingly well for the other features of the gala evening.

SMASH-UP

Two cars crashed last Saturday afternoon at the corner of Windsor and Narberth Avenues. The accident occurred at one o'clock.

A Ford coupe, driven by Alice Clummer, of Wilmington, Del., was coming down Narberth Avenue, when it was struck by a fast delivery truck going east on Windsor Avenue. The truck was driven by John Lawler, 104 Bridge Street, Norristown.

The force of the impact was so great that the lighter car was overturned and rather completely wrecked. The front of the delivery car was badly smashed, and the vehicle, a brand new one, otherwise damaged.

Lawler was removed to the Bryn Mawr Hospital, suffering from cuts and bruises, but was released after two hours. No one else was hurt.

The drivers were arraigned before Magistrate Fred Walzer. Two witnesses stated that, despite the destruction, the cars were going but fifteen miles an hour. As there was no evidence of reckless driving, both motorists were released.

Building Boom in Narberth Coming

Three Large Developments Expected in Spring

Indications are many that Narberth and vicinity will experience considerable activity in building this spring. Several large developments within the Borough or at its borders are either under way or being planned.

Permits have been issued to Wallace & Warner to erect twenty-two houses in the tract of land known popularly as Harsh's woods, north of Sabine avenue, embracing Berkeley and Conway avenues, not cut through, but on the Borough plan.

The original plans as submitted to the Building Inspector called for ten in houses and one triple house, to be designed in varying types of architecture. Later one of the houses was dropped because of the crowding which would result. The operation will involve over $200,000.

The plans were approved and the permit granted, although several members of Council expressed themselves as not approving the plan for a street. The new development is to be served by a new street, to be called Beechwood Lane, which will lead off from Sabine avenue. It will be curved, turning to Berkeley avenue. The objections of Council lie in the fact that the plan calls for a street narrower than Borough specifications, which would prevent its ever being accepted as part of the town highway system.

Workmen are already busy in the woods, cutting down a large part of the timber to make way for the operation. Part of the stand of trees will be preserved, to furnish shade for the new houses.

It is said on good authority that another operation of equal pretensions will soon be undertaken in the tract of ground lying south of Meeting House Lane. The operation, which, it is planned, will consist of 12 double houses, will also be built on a new street, which will curve from Iona avenue, near Windsor, to Meeting House Lane.

The operation will be undertaken by Sargent & Co., who purchased the ground from Messrs. Fletcher W. Stites, A. J. Loos and John Albrecht.

These plans involve the same feature, objectionable to Council, that the others do, that is, a narrow street. The Highway Committee has been exceedingly strict in the ruling that new streets must observe specifications in width and surface before the Borough will accept them, and Council is endeavoring to prevent "White Elephants" on the Borough map.

The third large operation in the offing involves "Sullivan Field," the home grounds for two years of the Narberth Baseball Team. Thirty-four houses are included in the plan to build up the large tract below Rockland avenue. This operation is not in the Borough limits, but will be a part of Narberth community.

HEAR STATE PRESIDENT

A large audience of interested citizens of Narberth, both women and men, greeted Mrs. John O. Miller, of Pittsburgh, at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening, where she spoke on a new Constitutional Convention for Pennsylvania.

The meeting was held by the Narberth League of Women Voters. Mrs. Miller is Chairman of the State League of Women Voters.

Mrs. C. P. Fowler, President of the Narberth League, had charge of the meeting and presented, as the first speaker Senator Fletcher W. Stites, who gave an interesting talk on Congress in its relation to the individual.

Mrs. Miller held her audience in rapt attention for nearly two hours, while she explained the necessity of a new Constitution for our State. The present Constitution has not been changed since 1873, and is woefully antiquated and enormously expensive. The system of collecting taxes and the Court proceedings in the lower Courts, particularly Alderman and Justice of the Peace in some counties, being scandalous.

Mrs. Miller served on the Revision Committee of twenty-five appointed by the Governor, and that committee was unanimous in its recommendations for a new Constitution. The voters will have an opportunity of voting on this question at the November election this year.

The old chemical engine has been put in first class shape and the hose and ladder truck is now being repaired.

It will be a very entertaining and instructive afternoon.

Tennis Club Again Holds Forth

"Open House" Dance Next Saturday's Event

Yes, we can visualize Mister Billy President Evans at the "Open House" Dance of the Tennis Club next Saturday, February 23rd. "Oh, hello! Mr. and Mrs. So and So, glad to see you. Meet Mr. and Mrs. So and So." Oh, yes, Bill knows 'em all, from eight to eighty and Ted Dold, too, is right there on the "cat's hop." Ted knows 'em too, 'cause he's not only a good fellow, but he has pounded the rails and it is his business to know them. Lest we forget, there is Johnny Wine, as retiring and modest as a circus band, but when that boy as Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, extends his right hand of fellowship, you've got a hand full of just that.

Yes! but what's it all about? Tune in, Brother, and adjust your visible, variable perceptor. It's all about the activities of part of that Reception Committee at the Club Dance next Saturday. Heaps of good fellows in that Club, and heaps of good fellow friends are mixing in that night, and it's the members that "brung 'em."

The hall will be very appropriately decorated for the occasion, and J. B. has already lined up two hundred and seven flags, one hundred and eighty-nine pictures of George Washington, numerous cheery trees and Doc Howard is the only one who knows how many hatchets, and the ladies all tagged up like a million dollars and some of the fellows in the "cup and fish" and others in the "business comfys." It's all to the "merrie" and when that band of jazz artists blare out that first note the party is on. It is to be the best thus far of the winter series. Stand by until next Saturday and we will now close by singing "It is always fair weather, etc." J. W. D. signing off.

NEW STORE OPENS

Announcement has been made that the Narberth Variety Store on Haverford Avenue will open its doors today.

The store, the largest in the Borough was constructed by remodeling the old Narberth Garage. It is equipped with fine lighting facilities, ventilation and other features.

J. D. Conley is manager of the new store, which will have for sale a complete line of household merchandise, dry goods, hardware, etc. The store was constructed and is owned by C. P. Cook.

TAXES RAISED

Despite statements several weeks ago that the County Tax rate would probably remain the same, the Commissioners yesterday announced a fifty per-cent. raise for 1924. The rate has been increased from 2 to 3 mills.

The new board of commissioners, elected last fall, in their statement concerning the increase, state that it is necessary in view of large road expenditures and improvements to the Almshouse and other County Buildings.

IN AGAIN

"Bill" May, well known resident of Merion and a long time familiar figure in Narberth affairs, was arrested at 4:00 Thursday morning, on a bench warrant issued because of his failure to appear for trial Wednesday.

His charge was of driving while intoxicated, arising from a little affair last November, when a brand new foreign car, of the make one mentions with bated breath, was wrecked at Ardmore.

His friends have been unable to keep the score of "Bill's" wrecked cars, which have often placed him before the public eye.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Dr. and Mrs. Henry Malcolm Chalfont, of Chestnut Ave., announced the engagement of their daughter Jean to Allan F. Gwynne, of Pittsburgh, at a luncheon on Sat., Feb. 9th. The guests included Miss Helen Fitz Randolph, of Pittsburgh, Miss Margaret Cheney, of Redlands, Cal., Miss Vivien Baldwin, of Oxford, Miss Myra Holman, of Swarthmore, Mrs. Stanley Lynch, of Media, Miss Etta Wickersham, of Pottstown, Mrs. George Weiner, of Lansdowne, Miss Elizabeth Hess and Mrs. Beld Bishop, of Phila., and Mrs. Robt. O. Collins, Mrs. James Foote, Miss Eleanor Ward, Miss Mildred Smith, Miss Madeline Miller, and Mrs. Henry A. Frye, of Narberth.

Suplee Elected New Building Inspector of Borough

Public Hearing Scheduled on Zoning Bill

George B. Suplee, Street Commissioner of the Borough of Narberth, was elected Building Inspector at the February meeting of Council last Monday night.

Mr. Suplee will succeed J. Taylor Darlington, who formerly held that position. The new Inspector is also Highway Commissioner, Secretary of the Board of Health, Health Officer, Recorder of Vital Statistics and Treasurer of the Narberth Fire Company.

He has offered his resignation as Secretary of the Board of Health and as Health Officer, so as to be able to devote more of his time to the new position. As building develops in the Borough, and in the face of a coming series of projects, the job of Building Inspector will be an important one.

Councilman Walton M. Wentz, Chairman of the Committee on Highways and Sewers, was elected President of Council pro tem. in the absence of President Hall.

The report of the auditors was received, but was sent back for explanation and correction in some of the details. A communication from the Post Office was read, asking that steps be taken to enforce the numbering of houses.

Zoning Ordinance

Two new ordinances were introduced. The most important of these was the long-awaited Zoning Bill, urged by the Civic Association and other local bodies as a necessity for the protection of the Borough's future growth.

The bill, presented by Wm. J. Henderson, Chairman of the Ordinance and Law Committee, is conservative in structure, yet is designed to afford protection to properties in the Borough. The proposed restrictions will limit commercial buildings, including stores, public garages, etc., to the fire limits of the Borough, which embraces the central section of town, and to Woodbine avenue, from Hampden to Iona, where there is now a business section. In this way the present residential sections will be protected from the invasion of stores. Individual properties will be protected by another clause which proposes to limit the proximity of one property to another. A minimum of 8 feet between building lines on at least one side will avoid too close crowding of houses, and is designed to prevent the increasing nuisance of a private garage being stuck under the window or front porch of an adjoining property.

The proposed ordinance was not introduced as a finished product, but simply defines the general scope of the completed plan. It passed first reading, and will be brought up for final action next month.

Public Hearing

In the meantime, however, the Building Committee of Council has decided to give the bill a public hearing, to permit all interested residents to make such suggestions as may improve or strengthen the legislation. Mr. E. C. Griswold in Chairman of the committee.

The public meeting will be held next Monday night, February 18th, at 8:00 o'clock. All builders and other residents with ideas on protective zoning are asked to appear at this meeting, which has been called to assure everyone of a hearing before the bill becomes a law.

The other ordinance presented offered several amendments to the building code. The proposed changes will affect the section dealing with permits, fees and inspections.

New Hose

Five hundred feet of new hose has been ordered for the Fire Department. This is necessary to bring the total amount up to a point where part can be set aside for drying without leaving the apparatus without equipment. Hugh W. Brown, Chairman of the Police and Fire Committee, learned that on February 1st the price of the hose would advance 10c. per foot. He therefore placed the order in advance of Council's official action, which little piece of headwork saved the Borough $50.

The report showed that four alarms had been answered in January. None of these was serious, three of them being within the Borough limits.

Leading a double life may get you through life twice as quick.

OUR TOWN

Narberth, surely, is our town. It is ours in every sense of the word. We use, enjoy its benefits and privileges, and tell our friends about it with justifiable pride.

Anyone who has lived within the Borough for a year, at the least, and does not, or cannot, stand up for our town, through thick or thin, is unfortunate and should consult a specialist to diagnose his case.

Winter has been with us this week, in the good old-fashioned way. Winter sports of the kind indulged in by those who travel to the Adirondacks, or to Switzerland, were in full swing right at our front door.

The scenery anywhere within the Borough Limits Tuesday and Wednesday was unsurpassed. It was free to all whose eyes are turned upward and who are looking for the bright and good everywhere to be found in our town.

The view from Haverford Avenue up Essex to the top of the hill on Tuesday evening at dusk was one no artist could reproduce. With the trees heavily laden with snow, and the roped off portion of the thoroughfare swarming with happy children and grown-ups caused the blood of every Narberthian who was fortunate enough to see it to tingle.

This was a real demonstration of the way in which we enjoy our town. It also showed how our town's "City Fathers" actually look after those little things that make life worth while in Narberth, and tell us to use our town to the limit.

The main portion of the main street of the Borough had been set aside for pleasure by the Highway Committee of the Council. The Police Committee provided an officer to insure the safety of our town's children, and at nightfall, the Light Committee saw to it that every light on the hill was burning brightly.

And, how the coasting was enjoyed! Where could it have been equaled? The hill seemed to have been made for the occasion.

Yes, Narberth is our town, and we who love it are enjoying living within its boundaries.

NEW DESCRIPTIVE MAP FOLDER OF PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

The Passenger Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad system has just issued a specially attractive and educational piece of literature in the form of a descriptive map folder which is attracting considerable favorable comment.

The folder is an artistic piece of printing in four colors and contains newly engraved maps of New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Chicago and St. Louis, and a large map of the United States in colors, showing the location of all National Parks and Monuments, together with a mass of instructive data of exceptional interest.

This folder will be mailed free upon request to D. N. Bell, Passenger Traffic Manager, Pennsylvania Railroad, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

The Borough of Narberth has just invested in a concrete mixer to be used for mixing road repair materials next summer. Street Commissioner Suplee believes that it will save considerable in labor costs.

TO WOODROW WILSON

In Memoriam

He stood a Knight—by destiny to challenge Nations

And spoke in values ever to endure, To live, to guide, and guard the coming generations.

And for Democracy, the World secure.

Thus we beheld him on the range of time.

While passing on he followed the sublime.

He stood, a Captain on the Bridge, while breakers swelling

In threats by night, to choke the "Ship of State;"

He meant to help the World into a peaceful dwelling

But met the faithless who decreed his fate.

He bowed and bent in tragedy we know,

But from his tomb eternal visions flow.

He stood alone—so strange—by counsellors surrounded;

He saw the need—that of the common man,

While diplomats of wily parts so much confounded.

He, reminiscent, did the records scan.

The page he wrote in history will seem

The Prophets' candid words—and not a dream.

We bow in deeper silence, while in lofty veneration

We take a part, and estimate his worth.

This is a precious hour and hallowed occasion

In gratitude to God—while speeding forth.

And lessons by the wayside perchance glean.

We see the footsteps of the Nazarene.

LOWER MERION HIGH

The Upper Darby game on Monday afternoon was a horse of a different color. It was clean-cut and fast—one of the best and the speediest games seen on the Ardmore school court this year.

To say that the contest was a hectic struggle and fuller of thrills than a movie serial would be putting the description only too mildly. An extra five-minute period was necessary in order to decide Upper Darby's superiority, as the score at the end of the regulation forty minutes was 23 all. Coach Forstburg's charges managed to cage one more two-pointer during the extra time, but the visitors garnered three, and thereby hung Lower Merion's tale.

The going was neck-and-neck throughout the fray and ties abounded. Even the first half ended with a tie—and also considering the final tally with an unusually low score. The count at half time was 5-5.

Gillilan Stars

Gillilan was outstanding scorer for the Maroon and White. He netted five field goals and four fouls for a total of 14 of his team's 25 points.

Coach Forstburg used his regular varsity line-up, consisting of Gillilan and Hutchinson, forwards; Savill, center; Bevan and Paul Seull, guard, in both games.

A Freshman-Sophomore snow fight, which had been tacitly agreed upon by various members of said classes for Monday afternoon, was "nipped in the bud" when Principal Snow got wind of the coming battle and changed the luncheon hours of the two classes so that they would not both be out in the yard at the same time.

GARDEN NOTES

If St. Patrick's Day is the time to sow garden peas and sweet peas outdoors, when is the time to sow seeds of annual flowers indoors?

Granted that we know just how to go about the operation and are the lucky possessors of a heated sun-porch or a sunny Southern window we should say that about March first to fifteenth would be a good time. Not that the sun is required to germinate seeds, in fact it is the heat they need, and shade—not light, until the little seedlings are started. After that heat and light is required, especially bottom heat, with the soil constantly moist.

Let us for the moment pass by the hardy perennials, the more desirable ones are better bought as plants and must be planted in late summer or fall, if we are raising our own perennials from seed the time to start them is in late summer so that they can be placed for next spring's bloom.

Then the seeds we will sow now will be annuals for this season's blooming. If we want to raise our own vegetable plants such as tomatoes, peppers, egg plants, cabbage, very early lettuce and so on we will want to start the seeds early.

Among the best of the annuals are the Spencer varieties of Sweet Peas; they cannot be transplanted so they must be sown outdoors. This same rule applies to Poppies, Mignonette, Portulaca, Nigella, Centaurea Imperialis and Echeveria, the latter all in early May of course.

Starting with edging plants we will want Ageratum—Little Blue Star, 5 inches tall, and Alyssum—Little Gem, white, 4 inches tall. Lobelia—Crystal Palace Compacta is an edging plant par excellence.

The tall Double Stock Flowered Annual Larkspur comes in blues, pink, red and white, 30 inches tall, and is one of the most satisfactory annuals in the garden.

The perennial larkspur or Delphinium, by the way, is one of the few good perennials that can be moved at any time as it is ever-blooming, so put some plants of the tall hybrids on your list.

Snapdragons in all colors and in various heights are indispensable, some of the new pink named varieties are beautiful and remember that most gardens can stand lots of pink.

Asters for late summer cut-flowers are easily raised, although plants in separate colors are available nearby at reasonable prices.

Annual White Gypsophila for arranging with other flowers will help you make pictures of your decorations.

Cosmos in pink and white in the early varieties can be started early, altogether many prefer the tall late Lady Lennox type that can be sown outdoors in May.

The subject of flowers from seed is a lengthy one so that we will continue in the next issue.

A NEW PLAN

The Narberth Building and Loan Association is about to launch an innovation.

During the past year or more the demand for mortgage loans on Narberth residences has reached such proportions that the funds available are insufficient to take care of the loans desired. Many of our residents and prospective residents have been building or buying their own homes and would prefer, as a matter of convenience, to place their mortgages in Narberth, if possible. Although the receipts of the association are from $16,000 to $20,000 or more monthly, this amount is no sufficient to meet the applications for conservative loans which are presented at the monthly meetings.

The innovation referred to is this. The directors of the association have decided to issue loan certificates bearing interest at five per cent on any amount loaned to the association with a minimum of five hundred dollars.

It is felt that many persons have surplus funds or funds awaiting investment which they will place with the association until they have other use for the money.

The rate of interest is in excess of that paid on checking accounts or saving fund deposits and the security is unquestioned.

The legal borrowing capacity of the association is over $150,000 and the amount of the proposed loans and bank loans will be kept conservatively within that figure.

The Narberth Building and Loan Association is a chartered co-operative organization and its profits go to no one but its stockholders. It has two objects and purposes. The first is to afford an easy and systematic way of saving and, to provide a means of accumulating a fund for permanent investment at the maturity of the shares. The second is to enable and assist its stockholders to purchase their homes.

It is expected that the forthcoming report of the association for the year ending February 29 will show a profit to the shareholders of about 8.4% and that the 37th series, opening Thursday, March 6, will be heavily subscribed.

The additional funds received by the association from the issue of loan certificates and from subscriptions to the new series will be immediately loaned out in Narberth mortgages to the profit of the shareholders and to the accommodation of home buyers.

FOURTH ANNUAL BENEFIT

The Philadelphia Civic Opera Company, presenting "I Pagliacci" and "Cavalleria Rusticana," will be the artists at the fourth annual benefit for the King's Daughters' Holiday House at Narberth.

Announcements have been sent to many residents of Narberth and others in this part of the country interested in the work of the Holiday House. The performance will be given on Friday evening, February 29th.

Mrs. Fred E. Derby is President of the Holiday House Committee in charge of the benefit. Applications for tickets should be sent to Mrs. R. I. Balcolm, Secretary, Ardmore, Pa.

The Evangel Circle, King's Daughters, of Narberth, are now handling four products which the community at large will be interested in. They consist of a furniture and household polish, floor finish for hardwood floors, metal shine and a new idea in the way of an automobile polish. They are to profit in the sale of any of these products.

The regular monthly meeting of the Circle was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Hewitt last Wednesday, with 22 members present.

The Work Committee reported finishing a complete layette for Phipps Institute and 25 garments for the Main Line Nurses' Association.

The annual report of the Treasurer was given as follows: Amount received, $571.53; Holiday House, $1,112.12; amount expended, $507.76; balance in treasury, $63.77.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Fred Derby; Vice-President, Mrs. N. E. Smedley; Secretary, Mrs. Etta Walker; Treasurer, Mrs. J. P. Witherow; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Edna Supper; Shut-In Committee, Chairman, Miss Helen Craft; Mrs. W. D. Smedley, Mrs. N. H.

SPECIALTIES FOR SPECIALISTS

Library Provides Expert Information on Many Subjects

There are books to satisfy every longing at the Narberth Community Library and books to encourage every whim. Specialists and hobbyists may find there the confirmation of their ardent beliefs and the arguments where-with to attack their opponents. General Robert's "Rules of Order" may sustain the parliamentarian who reads through its nearly four hundred pages, while Milton Work's "Auction Bridge of 1924" may save even the expert bridge fiend some moments of anxiety. Babcock's "Mah Jong" will explain the enigmatic "stealing the fourth to win" and elucidate "plucking the shadow of the moon from the bottom of the sea."

Fosdick and Bryan side by side carry on their religious controversy in "In His Image" and "Through Christianity to Progress," thus presenting both sides of the modernist-fundamentalist movement.

The gymmers and the swimmers will find consolation in Finck's "Girth Control" and helpful suggestions in Walter Camp's "Daily Dozen." Even the dramatic talent capable of presenting such ambitious plays as "The Yellow Jacket" might be glad to skim through Mary Russell's "How to Produce Plays and Pageants" and to read at least the introduction to Helen Cohen's "One Act Plays," leaving the musical souls to revel in "What Music Can Do for You."

For those who follow the signs of the Zodiac, the rise and fall of the tides and the phases of the moon, there is the "World Almanac," which will also settle many other questions based on statistical information. Anyone who wishes to know the names of all the magazines covering any particular field of business, art or science, will find the answer in Ayer's "Annual Directory." Impromptu speakers, writers or professional conversationalists will find a mine of happy phrases, fit for any occasion, little or big, in "Hoyt's Book of Practical Quotations." And just to fill in the chinks where other reference books fail is the Encyclopedia Britannica and the reference files of newspaper and magazine clippings over which presides Mrs. James Donnelly, the reference librarian. And thus does the Library strive to provide expert information on many subjects.

NARBERTH DEFEAT CHAMPIONS CHRISTIAN TEAM IN EXTRA PERIOD BATTLE

The Narberth "A" team showed some of the class that they possess when they took a fall out of the 3rd Christian team, champions of the first half, last Friday night after a spirited battle which required an extra 5 minutes to play to decide the winner.

The field goals were evenly distributed, each team getting 7, and a little more accuracy on the foul mark might have won the game for either team inside of the regulation time. Both teams gave a wretched exhibition of foul tossing. Narberth made good only 13 out of 37 chances, while 3rd Christian made only 8 out of 30 chances. The floor work and passing of each team was a treat to watch and all field goals were made after some quick team work had worked the ball under the basket.

Narberth's man of the hour was no other than "Jyke" Ward, who has been "freshing" up at Penn State College and other points west this past year. "Jyke" came through with 4 field goals just at the time that they helped the most. With only 4 minutes to go, Narberth held a 3 point lead, due to Jyke's field goal and foul toss, but Street, 3rd's flashy forward, dropped in a field and a foul goal and the score was once more deadlocked.

Just as the whistle blew a double foul was called and when John Dickie blew Narberth's chance, Big Dave Turner, of 3rd, very obligingly blew his chance and an extra 5 minute period was played. The extra period was all Narberth, for John Dickie and Baldwin let fly with field goals and Davis got a foul, while 3rd failed to score during the extra period.

The Narberth "B" team came out of their slump by giving 3rd Christian "B" a sound drubbing 35-14. Every one took a hand in the scoring as their team play was hitting on all cylinders. Clarence Humphries led the slaughter with 5 field goals.

SCHOOL NEWS

On Lincoln's birthday the 8B section gave a play, exhibiting Lincoln's great kindness. It was the well-known event in which William Scott is pardoned for falling asleep at his post. The cast was as follows:

Grant	Arthur Brooks
Captain Malins	Robert Foote
Dennis	George Bottoms
Lincoln	Alan Claghorn
Hay	Will Dothard
Will Scott	Lee Magarity
Orderly	John Greenburger
Officer	John Uberti

Paul Lees, Dominic Julian Lincoln's autobiography was read by Eleanor Burns, and his Gettysburg address by Betty Geylie. Betty Cook read Lincoln's well known letter to Mrs. Bixby, of Massachusetts.

On Monday, February 11th, most of the pupils in the school expected to have a fine snow battle during the lunch period. Mr. Wilson stopped all such thoughts by asking that no snowballs be thrown on school property. His orders were well obeyed though the next day found everyone throwing snow during the lunch period. Mr. Wilson overlooked the fact until a man had his sight ruined in one eye by a snowball. At present nobody is allowed to throw snowballs in Narberth because of this accident.

Next Tuesday, Feb. 18, the Junior High basketball team of La Salle Prep will journey to Narberth and play the Narberth Junior High team. Everyone is invited.

Mr. Gregg, the coach and gym teacher of the Narberth Public School appeared in gym-class with an incipient moustache. The pupils hardly knew him at first, but they are getting used to it.

On Monday afternoon the 7A cooking class in the Narberth School gave a tea for some of their mothers and the faculty.

On Saturday night the 8A section will give a party in the auditorium. WALLACE LITCHEFIELD, EDWIN SPEARMAN, DONALD TAYLOR, CHARLES YOUNG, Editors.

COMMUNITY CLUB NOTES

A meeting of the Women's Community Club of Narberth which promises to be so interesting that the guest privilege is to be extended to the public will be held next Tuesday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. at two-thirty P. M.

There will be a report of the Monday Conference by Mrs. Fry, whose subject will be "Uniform Divorce Laws."

The speaker of the afternoon, Mr. McCoy Franklin, of the Crossnore School, North Carolina, will talk on "Education Among the Mountain Whites." He has arranged to bring many of the samples of weaving, etc., work done by the pupils of the school, which should be most interesting. Mr. Franklin is also an accomplished whistler and will entertain his hearers by imitating the various bird calls, which he can do so well.

The first meeting of the French class was held last week at the home of Mrs. Wm. Livingston. This has always been a most popular class and is open to all members.

Gym Class

The gymnasium class which meets each Wednesday morning in the Y. M. C. A. at Narberth is growing rapidly and all the members are most enthusiastic in their praise. It was thought after the first meeting that the demand for crutches and wheel chairs in Narberth would increase and Mrs. Orth, who has charge of the "Comforts for the Sick," got ready for a rush business—but apparently all the stiff muscles are in order as there was a full attendance at the last meeting. This class is open to those who are not members of the Club. This is also true of the swimming class which goes to Ardmore each Friday morning on the nine-thirty train.

All those who have any ailments are urged to join this class, which guarantees to make you forget your troubles and your birthdays. For information call Narberth 635-J.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

The February meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, was held at the home of Mrs. Addie Hewitt, 116 Essex Ave.

Following the business meeting was the installation of the officers for 1924 who were:

President—Mrs. Effie Burns.
Vice President—Mrs. Evelyn Howenstein.
Rec. Secretary—Grace A. Smith.
Cor. Secretary—Mrs. Elizabeth Wipf.
Treasurer—Miss Edith Hewitt.
Executive Committee—Mrs. Addie Hewitt, Mrs. Florence Dickie, Mrs. Florence Ross, Mrs. Isabel Derby.

Mr. Harry Simpson, Past Commander of the Narberth Post, had charge of this service.

The next meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be at the home of Mrs. Bishop, Dudley Ave., on Mar. 11th.

POLITICIANS ORGANIZE

At a meeting of republican citizens at General Wayne Hotel, Saturday evening last, the Republican Association of Lower Merion and Narberth was organized by the election of W. A. L. Barker, Chairman of the Board of Commissioners of Lower Merion township, as President, and William G. Hower, publisher of the "Home News," Bryn Mawr, as Executive Director.

Committees were appointed to ascertain the views of prospective candidates for the Legislature on legislation affecting townships of the first class and to consider future meetings and increased membership.

Ralph Beaver Strassburger was endorsed for Delegate-at-Large to the Cleveland Convention; Charles Johnson as District Delegate from the Montgomery County portion of the Ninth Congressional District; and Henry W. Watson, of Bucks County, for another term in Congress.

The EIGHT-EIGHTEEN

(Apologies to Malt Wason)

I ride my weary bones along the Main Line railroad track, and see six hundred men rush out with shirt-tails up their back. By jove, I see a man rush out an egg in either paw, a toothbrush or a razor strap; it's comical, I vow. Six women make one minute flat and cover forty squares. "Gazooks," I cry, and also "gosh," no humble luck is theirs. And o'er the fence that lines the way and over walls and street I see a man with shoes in hand and gloves upon his feet. B'gad, 'tis sad I loudly sigh, with measured beat and slow, "to see the people slip and slide upon the new-mown snow—the spinster and the married birds—the shiek—the little queen—come tearing out from miles around to catch the eight-eighteen. Oh, why this speed, this awful haste, this bustle and this rush that cause the D. O. P. to go without their morning mush, and grab instead a pile of beans, a prune or apple tart, and try to catch the eight-eighteen when it's about to start? It is a foolish prank I wot, to sleep till time is pressed, when they could rise at six o'clock and walk out fully dressed.
